John Haase and the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution (WHOI)

John Haase joins Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute (WHOI) as a Member of the Corporation. In addition, he was appointed to the Investment Committee, which is charged with oversight of the Institute's endowment totaling more than $400 million in assets. As an Oceanography major at the U.S. Naval Academy, this provides an opportunity to both give back to the community and reengage in ocean based research. In addition to WHOI, John is on the board of the New England Chapter of the Young Presidents Organization.

The Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution is a private, non-profit organization on Cape Cod, Massachusetts, dedicated to marine research, engineering, and higher education. Established in 1930 on a recommendation from the National Academy of Sciences, its primary mission is to understand the ocean and its interaction with the Earth as a whole, and to communicate a basic understanding of the ocean's role in the changing global environment.
